

MEDIA COVERAGE

2nd Econfest in Islamabad 28 – 29 October 2023

Web Coverage

The Nation

<https://www.nation.com.pk/27-Oct-2023/pide-to-hold-2-day-economy-festival-econfest-2023-tomorrow>

Daily Times

<https://dailytimes.com.pk/1143465/pide-partners-to-hold-second-econfest-on-28th-29th-october/>

Pakistan Observer

<https://pakobserver.net/pide-2-day-economy-festival-econfest-2023-to-begin-tomorrow/>

Lead Pakistan

<https://leadpakistan.com.pk/news/pide-to-host-the-second-economy-festival-econfest/>

Independent News Pakistan

<https://inp.net.pk/news-detail/pakistan/pide-to-hold-its-two-day-economic-festival>

APP Pakistan

<https://www.app.com.pk/business/pide-to-hold-economy-festival-econfest-2023-from-saturday/>

<https://www.urdupoint.com/en/business/pide-to-hold-economy-festival-econfest-202-1761028.html>

Urdu Point

<https://www.urdupoint.com/en/pakistan/pide-partners-to-hold-second-econfest-on-28t-1761109.html>

<https://www.urdupoint.com/en/business/pide-to-hold-economy-festival-econfest-202-1761028.html>

October 27, 2023

PIDE to hold Economy Festival “EconFest-2023” from tomorrow

AGENCIES
ISLAMABAD

Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in collaboration with the Research for Social Transformation and Advancement (RASTA) programme and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), will hold the second two-day Economy Festival “EconFest-2023” from October 28-29 here at the Pak-China Friendship Centre.

For the event, PIDE would bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and prominent personalities from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges.

PIDE said there would be no registration fee to participate in the festival and it would be open for all.

The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by the country offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting that national economy. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with

There will be no registration fee to participate in festival and it will be open for all experts from diverse backgrounds. PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. Students and faculty members from various universities, including LUMS,

University of the Punjab, Arid Agriculture University, NUML University, SZABIST Islamabad, IMSciences Peshawar, FAST National University, Fatima Jinnah Women University, Riphah University, Quaid-i-Azam University, the National Incubation Centre for Aerospace Technology, Air University, Rawalpindi Women University, University of Haripur, Federal Urdu University, University of Wah, National Defence University, and Foundation University, are actively participating in the mega event. “By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan,” PICE VC Dr Nadeem ul Haque said.

October 27, 2023

PIDE hosts 2 days economy festival

FAISAL SHEIKH

ISLAMABAD: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak - China Friendship Centre in Islamabad. Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement.

According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all.

The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. Students and faculty members from various universities, including LUMS, University of the Punjab, Arid Agriculture University, NUML University, SZABIST Islamabad, IMSciences Peshawar, FAST National University, Fatima Jinnah Women University, Riphah University, Quaid-i-Azam University, the National Incubation Centre for Aerospace Technology, Air University, Rawalpindi Women University, University of Haripur, Federal Urdu University, University of Wah, National Defence University, and Foundation University, are actively participating in the mega event. By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque. Econfest anticipates a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration. There is something for everyone in it.

The Frontier Post

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host second Economy Festival - EconFest

F.P. Report

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak - China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement.

According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here on Thursday, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque. Econfest anticipates a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration.

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host the Second Economy Festival – EconFest

FRONTIER NEWS

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak - China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement.

According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all.

The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court.

October 27, 2023

PIDE, partners to hold second EconFest on 28th, 29th October

The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) programme and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), will host the second EconFest on October 28-29 at the Pak-China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

EconFest is a two-day festival that brings together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. This year's event will feature over 200 experts participating in 27 enriching sessions on a wide range of topics. In addition to the panel discussions, EconFest will also feature a cultural show, a tech exhibition, an academic exhibition, a book exhibition, a fun zone, and a food court.

"EconFest is a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country," said PIDE Vice Chancellor Dr. Nadeem ul Haque. "It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds." "We anticipate a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration," added PIDE Pro Vice Chancellor Dr. Durre Nayab. The event is free and open to all, with no registration required. Dr. Mahmood Khalid, prominent economist will also moderate a session "Where to Invest" in upcoming EconFest". APP

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host the second Economy Festival – EconFest

TIMES REPORT

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak-China Friendship Centre in Islamabad. Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address

Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement. According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here on Thursday, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds. PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitement at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque. EconFest anticipates a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration.

PIDE to hold Economy Festival “EconFest-2023” from Saturday

STAFF REPORTER

ISLAMABAD

Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in collaboration with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) programme and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), will hold the second two-day Economy Festival “EconFest-2023” from October 28-29 here at the Pak-China Friendship Centre.

For the event, PIDE would bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and prominent personalities from various fields to address Pakistan’s pressing economic challenges, a news release said.

PIDE said there would be no registration fee to participate in the festival and it would be open for all.

The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by the country offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting that national economy. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court.

Students and faculty members from various universities, including LUMS, University of the Punjab, Arid Agriculture University, NUML University, SZABIST Islamabad, IMSciences Peshawar, FAST National University, Fatima Jinnah Women University, Riphah University, Quaid-i-Azam University, the National Incubation Centre for Aerospace Technology, Air University, Rawalpindi.

PIDE to hold its two-day Economic festival

INP

ISLAMABAD—The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE) will hold its second two-day economy festival – EconFest – here on October 28 in collaboration with the Research for Social Transformation and Advancement (RASTA) program and Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE).

Leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields will participate in the event.

The participants will speak about Pakistan's pressing economic challenges, says a PIDE press release.

Students and faculty members from various universities, including LUMS, University of the Punjab, Arid Agriculture University, NUML University, SZABIST Islamabad, IMSciences Peshawar, FAST National University, Fatima Jinnah Women University,

Pakistan Institute of Development Economics

Riphah University, Quaid-i-Azam University, the National Incubation Centre for Aerospace Technology, Air University, Rawalpindi Women University, University of Haripur, Federal Urdu University, University of Wah, National Defence University, and Foundation University, will actively participate in the mega event. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement. Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural

By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque.

Econfest anticipates a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration.

There is something for everyone in it. We invite everyone to join us and participate in discussions, said Pro VC, PIDE, Dr Durre Nayab.

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host second Economy Festival - EconFest

T.M. Report

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak - China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement.

According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here on Thursday, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court.

By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque. Econfest anticipates a significant turnout of participants from various walks of life, making this event an ideal opportunity for visibility, networking, and collaboration. There is something for everyone in it. We invite everyone to join us and participate in discussions, said Pro VC, PIDE, Dr Durre Nayab.

October 27, 2023

PIDE to hold Economy Festival 'EconFest-2023' from Saturday

Staff Reporter

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in collaboration with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) programme and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), will hold the second two-day Economy Festival "EconFest-2023" from October 28-29 here at the Pak-China Friendship Centre.

For the event, PIDE would bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and prominent personalities from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges, a news release said.

PIDE said there would be no registration fee to participate in the festival and it would be open for all.

The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by the country offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting that national economy. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds.

PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court.

Students and faculty members from various universities, including LUMS, University of the Punjab, Arid Agriculture University, NUML University, SZABIST Islamabad, IMSciences Peshawar, FAST National University, Fatima Jinnah Women University, Riphah University, Quaid-i-Azam University, the National Incubation Centre for Aerospace Technology, Air University, Rawalpindi Women University, University of Haripur, Federal Urdu University, University of Wah, National Defence University, and Foundation University, are actively participating in the mega event.

"By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan," PICE Vice Chancellor Dr Nadeem ul Haque said.

October 27, 2023

PIDE 2-day economy festival EconFest 2023 to begin tomorrow

STAFF REPORT

ISLAMABAD

The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RSTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), has announced the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak - China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement. According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country.

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host the second Economy Festival - EconFest

MT REPORT

PESHAWAR: The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak-China Friendship Centre in Islamabad. Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement. According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here on Thursday, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues impacting our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds. PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr Nadeem ul Haque.

October 27, 2023

PIDE to host the second Economy Festival – EconFest

■ OUR CORRESPONDENT

PESHAWAR

The Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), in partnership with the Research for Social Transformation & Advancement (RASTA) program and the Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE), is proud to announce the second Economy Festival - EconFest, scheduled to take place tomorrow on October 28th and 29th, 2023 at the Pak-China Friendship Centre in Islamabad.

Following the tremendous success of the inaugural event, held in Lahore this past March, PIDE is once again set to bring together leading economists, public policy experts, practitioners, professionals, academicians, and influential figures from various fields to address Pakistan's pressing economic challenges. The inaugural EconFest in Lahore was celebrated as a resounding success, and tomorrow's event in Islamabad promises to build on this achievement.

According to the Press Release issued from the PIDE office here on Thursday, EconFest will have no registration fee, and there is no requirement for registration; it is open to all. The Institute, with its rich tradition of convening experts to tackle the intricate challenges faced by our nation, offers a unique opportunity for the broader public to engage directly with the genuine issues including our country. It serves as a platform for concerned citizens to engage in meaningful dialogues with experts from diverse backgrounds. PIDE promises an amazing experience with 33 esteemed partners, 27 enriching sessions, over 200 experts sharing their insights, a vibrant cultural show, a cutting-edge tech exhibition, an inclusive academic exhibition, a literary journey at the book exhibition, excitements at the fun zone, and delectable delights at the food court. By working together, we can attain the festival's aims of fostering meaningful dialogues and generating insights into the economic challenges facing Pakistan, stated Vice Chancellor, PIDE, Dr. Mudeer ul Haque.